GHOST TOWNS OF THE UNITED STATES

This article provides a link to the website United States Ghost Towns. The home page provides a map of the United States with interactive links to numerous articles of historic interest. These articles are not only of old mining towns but also of other historic places such as Camp Rucker, Skeleton Canyon and Johnny Ringo's gravesite. The website is easy to use. Just click on the state you are interested in and when it pops up you click on the county. That will bring you to a web page that lists all of the historic places that they have prepared information for.

     The link to the web site is: http://ghosttowns.com/ghosttownsusa.html
     If the link doesn't work, copy and paste the url to your browser.